

STUDIO INEKE VAN DER WERFF

Studio Ineke van der Werff is a ceramic design studio based in Utrecht. Ever since graduating from Hogeschool voor de Kunsten Utrecht in 2012, it's been all about experimenting. Ineke is constantly looking for new and exciting ways to combine and recycle materials. While pushing the boundaries of old techniques, the designs remain clean and iconic.

ARCHIVING WATER – COLORED DROPS

Lotte de Raadt – Colored Drops

Colored Drops is a design research from studio Lotte de Raadt where a new method for treating ceramics is being researched with a self developed glazing technique. The glazing behaves unpredictable like water – it finds its own way and leaves intricate but beautiful and tactile structures behind. The process is designed, the outcome is left to chance. The collection consists out of plates with different textures and colors which archive the flow of water.

DIVERSITY AND DETAILS

As a multi skilled designer with a specialisation in textile design Christian Frank Müller realises a wide range of different projects along his themes diversity and details and simplicity with a twist.

«I like simple things. Some people would say ‚boring‘, but boring is in my opinion not bad. It’s just the absence of excitement in a world that is full of exciting things and where every new object is just trying to raise the level of excitement.»

ODDNESS

BUBBLEGRAPHY is a series of vases with a mesmerising look. The pattern on each product is created by a special process of blowing air bubbles in the glaze. The coating creates a three-dimensional motive and makes each vase unique.

Design by Thomas Van Der Smán & Adrianus Kundert.
